In 2005, the Montana legislature authorized fundraising for a new chapel on the campus of the State Hospital at Warm Springs. With no permanent chapel, religious services had to be held in conference rooms across campus. By 2009, the funds had been raised through private donations.

The nondenominational chapel provides an enhancement to the quality of the environment of care for residents, staff and visitors. With their own chapel, patients now have a place specifically for worship.
